HATBORO BAPTIST CHURCH

MinisterREV. HERBERT AGATE

Morning Service11:00 A.M.

Evening Service 7:45 P.M.

Sunday School 9:45 A.M.

Superintendent Sunday School

THOMAS QUINN

Mrs. Hannah Yerkes, a devout Christian, felt the great need of a religious institution, and in 1824, a Sunday School was started with one hundred pupils. Prominent men and women of the neighborhood were enlisted as teachers and the school was opened in Loller Academy.

This school was the nucleus of the Hatboro Baptist Church which was organized in September, 1835, and for four years worshipped in Loller Academy, now the public and high school building. On September 5, 1839 the cornerstone was laid for the church building and was dedicated January 16, 1849. The church grew so rapidly that in 1855, fifteen years after its founding, the building was enlarged to its present size at an expense of upwards of $4000. The structure was greatly improved in 1907 during the pastorate of Rev. F. C. Colby, one of Hatboro's outstanding citizens and for twenty-five years pastor of the church. The building is beautifully situated about one hundred feet back from the York Road, between Moreland and Montgomery avenues, and the walks and the building are shaded by stately maple trees. The church property contains the large church building, parsonage and sexton's house. A beautiful and well kept cemetery is at the rear of the grounds.

Rev. Herbert Agate is now pastor.

Superintendent Sunday School

JAMES HEATH

The Lehman Memorial M. E. Church, at the corner of Old York road and Lehman avenue, is the oldest church building in the borough, being built in 1836, and dedicated May 22, 1837.

The parsonage was built at the expense of Joseph and Deborah Lehman and by them presented to the congregation. The church as it was first completed cost $2700 and the parsonage $2100. Mr. Lehman, for whom the church is named, died November 11, 1845, aged 81 years. The bodies of Lehman and his wife lie in a vault in the front church yard.

In 1879 the congregation rebuilt the church, and about twenty-five years later, enlarged the lecture room in which all church festivities are now held. The building is composed of a large room for church services, a chancel room, Sunday school room, basement and well equipped kitchen. There is a small cemetery on the grounds with the graves of many who figured largely in the history of this community.

The first Pastor of the Church was William Krier Goentner, father of the present generation of that family; Reverend Claude Grason is the present pastor.

P. E. CHURCH OF THE ADVENT

MinisterREV. GEORGE W. LAMB

Morning Services, 7:45 and 11:00 A.M.

Sunday School 9:45 A.M.

Superintendent Sunday School

LOUIS HINN

The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Advent was founded in 1889 and services were held in Odd Fellows Hall. The corner stone of the present building was laid in 1900 and the church was dedicated in 1901.

The building is situated on Byberry avenue, between York road and Penn Street. Built on a high terrace, the church, although small, is one of the most attractive structures in the town.

Rev. George Woodward Lamb is the present rector of the church, and highly respected.

The Church of the Advent Parish House, a model structure of its kind, and one that is already rendering a valuable service to the entire community, was erected in 1929 and was dedicated October 31, of that year.

The parish house is built of native stone exactly matching that in the walls of the church itself. It houses an auditorium seating two hundred persons, an ample stage, stage rooms, class and committee rooms, a woman's meeting room, a modernly equipped kitchen, and basement recreation room. The building is connected to the church proper by a beautiful flagstone-paved cloister dedicated to the memory of Suzanne Hutchison Fay. In the rear of the cloister is the rector's study. The cost of the parish house was approximately $20,000.

HATBORO SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

York Road and County Line

MinisterREV. ALVIN CONRAD

Services Saturdays

Sabbath School 9:45 A.M.

Preaching11:45 A.M.

Seventh-day Adventism had its origin in 1845 when a small body of men and women, less than a dozen, associated themselves together in the formation of this new Christian denomination.

Since that day nearly one and a quarter centuries ago, this sect has more than doubled its members every ten years, and has widened its scope so that in 1929 it had a record of increasing its missionary activities nearly five hundred per cent in every decade of its history. The Seventh-day Adventist Church is now publishing the gospel in 457 languages and is appropriating $5,000,000 yearly for foreign missions.

In September 1924, the Hatboro Seventh-day Adventist Church School was organized with an enrollment of six children, meeting at the corner of County Line and Old York Road in a house purchased by Mr. Wallace Stevens for that purpose. Members of this denomination being attracted by the opportunity of giving their children Christian education moved nearby and on March 7, 1926, a Church was organized with ten members. Meetings were held in the school room until the increasing membership made it necessary to seek larger quarters.

In 1927 four lots adjoining the school property were purchased, and in May, 1929, it was decided to erect a church building. Messrs. Heys, McDonough, Stevens and Caldwell were the committee in charge of the building plans. On July 1, a contract was given to the W. P. Cameron Engineering Company and ground was broken one week later.

July 21, 1929, the corner stone of the Church was laid when Elder Nelson, the pastor, and Elder Conrad, local elder, conducted the ceremony.

On October 26 of the same year the Church was dedicated with Elder Robins of Washington, D. C., preaching the service. On this day the building was crowded to the doors. The afternoon service was in charge of Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, Ph.D., dean of Theology at the Washington Missionary College. The following Sabbath, eleven persons were baptized and admitted to the church, bringing the membership up to forty-seven, with sixty-six in the Sabbath School. A Young People's Society, a Dorcas and a Junior Missionary Society have been organized. Prayer meeting is held every Wednesday of each month which is devoted to a Teacher Parent meeting.

The new Church building has been appraised at $20,000, but due to the generosity of the Cameron Engineering Company, and Messrs. Faltenbacher and James H. Jackson, subcontractors, the cost was greatly reduced.

The public is invited to worship in this church every Sabbath (Saturday) and Wednesday evening.

HISTORY

In 1701, James Dawson, an immigrant to this country from London, hewed a path through Penn's woods to a spot sixteen miles north of the village of Philadelphia and here, finding a spot to his liking, cleared a few acres of land, built a log cabin, and settled down to pursue his trade of hatter and farmer.

The site of his homestead was later to become the town of Hatboro, and his forest path the Old York Road.

In 1705 Dawson erected a permanent home of stone about one hundred and fifty yards south of his cabin which stood upon what is now the corner of Old York Road and West Moreland Avenue. Other pioneers gradually joined Dawson and in the formation of a small village his stone residence was turned into a tavern known as the Crooked Billet. In the meantime a post road had been cut on through to New York and in the late eighteenth century the Crooked Billet was one of the famed overnight stops along this stage route. This building still stands and is owned by the Newton Watson Estate.

Another of Hatboro's oldest buildings is the grist mill on the banks of the Penny-pack (a derivation of the Indian name Pemmapecka) Creek, now used as a restaurant. This was erected in 1724.

BATTLE OF CROOKED BILLET

Hatboro was the site of the Battle of Crooked Billet during the Revolutionary War. This battle was fought on May 1, 1778, between colonial troops numbering about four hundred under command of Brigadier General John Lacey, a native of Buckingham Township, and a large number of picked British troops under Lieutenant Colonel Abercrombie and Major Simcoe. In 1861, an imposing monument was erected by the Hatboro Monument Association close by the spot where the American troops were first attacked and during the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration of this battle held on May 5, 1928, another monument was erected in Warminster Township near the spot where many of the American patriots are known to lie buried.

BOROUGH SCHOOLS

Hatboro, for nearly two hundred years, has been a center of education for the surrounding communities.

In 1730 its first school house was built on what is now Byberry Road at the corner of Warminster Street. This was later abandoned and another one built on the Old York Road near the site of the Crooked Billet Monument. A few years later this frame building was moved about one quarter of a mile west on what is now Monument Avenue. The next school house of record was a stone structure at the corner of Byberry Avenue and Penn Street that was used as such until 1873 when it was converted into a dwelling. Hatboro in its early days had two private schools, a girls' seminary conducted by Rev. George Hand in the building now occupied by Thorn's Apartments, and a boys' academy of which Hugh Morrow was the master.

In 1811, Loller Academy was erected in compliance with the will of Robert Loller, a teacher, surveyor, and colonel in the Continental Army. The Academy was operated as a private school until shortly after the adoption of the public school system in 1836 when it became a combined public and private institution. In 1873, it was converted into an entirely public school and has been used as such ever since. An interesting feature of the Loller Academy is the cupola clock made by the famed Isaiah Lukens.

In 1926 Hatboro's present main high school building was erected at a cost of approximately $100,000, and in 1929, the $25,000 industrial arts building was added.

Hatboro is now equipped with the most modern and efficient school system available with highest class instructors and most up-to-date equipment.

UNION LIBRARY

Hatboro is proud of its Library—proud not only of the classic beauty of its Library Building, but the historic background of the institution itself, for we believe we are correct in saying that it was the third in Pennsylvania and seventh in the United States in the order of organization.

In the year 1755, more than twenty years prior to the Revolution, public spirited citizens of Hatboro and vicinity began to consider a proposal to found a library; like all such movements, its conception was the work of a few master minds who envisioned the future. August 2, 1755, four men, Rev. Charles Beatty, Rev. Joshua Potts, John Lukens and Joseph Hart, met at the public house of David Rees in Crooked Billet, and decided that the time was ripe to organize a public library. Shortly afterwards a company was organized, with John Jarrett, Samuel Erwin, and Joseph Hart as directors; Mr. Loofborrower as secretary and Daniel Thomas as treasurer. They did not ask the government or local authorities for funds to found it, but put their hands in their pockets, as a testimony of their interest, and then and there contributed 40 pounds and 7 shillings as a foundation fund.

Hatboro Library was founded for the benefit of the community, by the community, and like all such local institutions, its early years were filled with difficulties and discouragements. It had no home excepting the members' homes, and during the Revolution was hidden in the home of Mr. Longstreth in Johnsville, Pa. Nathaniel Holt, who did more for the library than any other man, left it a legacy of $5,713.63, of which $3,573.94 was expended for lot and buildings. In 1851 the library occupied the present building, which is, with minor improvements, the same as it was when built. By several legacies the endowment fund has been increased, and in 1930, a drive for additional endowment added several thousand dollars to this fund, which is the main support of this public benefactor.

The present officers are: Dr. Thomas Reading, President; Ezra P. Carrell, Vice President; Mrs. Joshua T. Paxson, Secretary; Mrs. John N. Ade, Treasurer. Directors: Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Howard Jarrett, Mrs. William Kuhn, Mrs. Mary C. Robinson, Mrs. William Small, Mrs. John C. Miller, J. Howard Twining, Chester H. Barnes, Miss Amy B. Yerkes.

INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES

Hatboro is close to two of the country's greatest trade centers, New York and Philadelphia, and because of its nearness to the ports of these great cities it is excellently located for export trade.

Transportation facilities are of the best. The boro is on the Old York Road, the shortest route between Philadelphia and New York, the greater portion of which is now concrete, and is the hub of other fine highways radiating in all directions. The Reading Railroad offers good freight service at low rates, and the Trenton Cut-off division of the Pennsylvania passes one half mile south of the town. About a mile from the borough is located the fine Pitcairn Aviation airport and plane factory.

Labor conditions are ideal in Hatboro. The two major industries now located in the town have recruited their employees almost entirely from Hatboro and the surrounding communities, and they have proved a highly satisfactory class of workers. The population is ninety percent white American, and well educated. There is an almost inexhaustible source of labor within a short commuting distance of Hatboro and the town itself is amply able to care for a great increase in population.

Borough officials and civic organizations are eager to co-operate with industries locating in the town. Taxes are normal, the borough's finances are in excellent condition, assessments are exceedingly low and in the case of new industries, are made as nearly negligible as possible. The price of land, while steadily increasing, is still cheap in comparison with that in Philadelphia and its immediate environs, and there are a number of excellent factory sites still available in the borough.

Hatboro is located on high rolling ground with good natural drainage and a dry healthy climate. There have been no illness epidemics in the board of health records for many years.

Building costs are low in Hatboro. Housing facilities are excellent. The entire town is serviced by electricity, gas and water. The streets in the town are paved and sidewalks are good.

RESIDENTIAL ADVANTAGES

Home-seekers will find in Hatboro everything to be desired for residential purposes.

Realty values, while now below normal as is the case the country over, are stable and for the past decade have been marked by a steady upward trend. Houses throughout the town are of the better type, and even the less costly are sturdily built and attractively designed with ample grounds about them.

Opportunities for employment are unexcelled. Hatboro's industries are operating steadily. Very low commutation fares to Philadelphia are maintained by railroad and motor coach. Local industries operate on a good wage scale.

Hatboro has a first class educational system with elementary, junior, and senior high schools. Manual training is taught in the high school, and students are well equipped to either follow a trade or enter college immediately upon graduation.

Hatboro has four churches of various denominations, a bank, fraternal organizations, an active Lions Club, a Parent-Teacher Association, and five women's organizations.

Excellent entertainment is provided for residents of the borough as they are within fifteen minutes motoring distance of high class theatres. Willow Grove Park, one of the largest amusement parks in the country is two miles away.

Residents are safe-guarded by one of the finest equipped fire companies in Montgomery County and an alert police force. A vigilant Board of Health guarantees sanitation. An independent company provides pure artesian well water under good pressure.

The Public Spirit, one of Pennsylvania's foremost weekly newspapers, is printed in the Borough.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

Hatboro was incorporated as a borough in 1871. Since that time the population of the town has been more than tripled, having doubled itself in the past ten years.

Affairs of the borough have been managed economically and while the town has been well developed along all lines, with low taxation, its indebtedness is comparatively small. Hatboro's fire company, maintaining practically new equipment costing close to $25,000 is free of debt.

Hatboro's Sewerage System is the latest of modern improvements to be given the borough in conjunction with Upper Moreland Township. The Disposal Plant itself is located midway between the towns of Hatboro and Willow Grove and is under the supervision of Samuel Yerkes.
